—Do you visit the school occasionally?

—Monday was a cold, disagreeable day but Tuesday morning it turned out warm and pleasant.

—Suspicious looking drop letters must be opened with care. They probably contain "statements" of account.

—The encyclopedia has been ordered for the Iowa public school by the committee having the matter in charge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Downer, parents of the "Downer boys," from Missouri, have been visiting their relatives in Iowa this week.

—W. W. Sain, editor of the Woodcock Post, has been appointed postmaster at Neosho Falls. Accept congratulations.

—Judge Talbot went up to Topeka last Saturday to help out the Legislature in their trouble to elect a United States Senator.

—We are glad to learn that Mrs. J. B. Myers, who has been very sick with lung fever for a couple of weeks, has entirely recovered.

—You can mop your floor clean and dry without getting your hands wet by buying one of those scrub machines at Richards & Cowan's.

—We acknowledge the receipt of the tenth annual report of the Kansas State Penitentiary, from Maj. Hopkins, the Warden. There are 406 inmates.

—A. L. Downer, a former resident of Iowa, was in town this week visiting old friends and relatives. He is express messenger between Kansas City and Denver.

—Some of the friends of Wm. Jones, out in Marmaton township, called on him one evening of last week. Quite a little party and a real good time says our informant.

—We have received a copy (Vol. 1 No. 1) of George Francis Train's paper, and any one wishing to see a curious document can be accommodated by calling at this office.

—New devices for postage stamps have been adopted. The color of the three-cent stamps is to be changed, and there will be an improvement in the adhesive compound, something warranted to stick.

—Captain Thrasier, while out chopping one day this week, accidentally severed three toes from his right foot. It is quite a serious and painful wound, and will require him in his house for some time to come.

—Perhaps a man don't like to get up these cold mornings and kindle the fire, but when he married her he took her for "better or for worse," and there she is sitting up in bed just ready to nurse those words at him.

—We understand the Baptist church of Garnett have about completed arrangements to procure the services of Rev. Mr. Fiddling, of Iowa, to fill their pulpit. Mr. Fiddling is reported to be a young man of more than ordinary ability. —Garnett Plaindealer.

—When you want pure and fresh fruits call at Stevenson's drug store. He has lately got in a new supply, and has as fine a stock of everything pertaining to that business as can be found in northern Kansas. Prescriptions carefully and correctly compounded. It —The althay up at Horse-shoe Bend, mentioned in our "Up the River" correspondence last week, will probably result in a couple of State cases. One of the parties had his face horribly mutilated with an axe, and the other was severely bruised with a club—so we are informed.

—The City Council failing to get a quorum at their regular meeting last Monday night, met Wednesday evening. They appointed N. F. Loomis, City Marshal, and engaged Messrs. Cates & Kepling to look after the interests of the city in the case of L. L. Northrup vs. the County Commissioners, et al.

—A boy by the name of Penn, who has been working at Weith, Robinson & Cozine's blacksmith shop, left town yesterday. The cause seems to be that he was in the habit of pilfering small articles at the various stores, and Mr. Cozine getting an inkling of it, investigated his carter's pack, which resulted in finding a miscellaneous lot of traps which the boy could not account for.

—On the second page of to-day's paper will be found a prospectus of the life of Gen. Custer, published by Sheldon & Co., N. Y. From a casual examination of this work, we can heartily commend it, and if you want an interesting book you can do no better than to subscribe for it. William Brown has the agency for this county, and will call on you during the ensuing week to get your name.

—Look out for fires. The extra heat engendered during the severe weather has thoroughly dried all wood work near pipes and flues. People in extremely cold weather are apt to neglect precautions in their haste to secure the heat necessary to keep them comfortable. In their dwellings and stores they fill up the stove, throw on the draft, and pay no heed to the fact that the extra heat may result in conflagration.

—Mr. Wolf, living east of Iowa some five or six miles was in town one day this week to take out a warrant charging one Watson with assault with intent to kill. Mr. Loomis, constable, started out to interview Mr. Watson but was unable to find him; reports agreeing that he had started for a warmer climate—Alabama. As near as we can learn, Mr. Wolf was annoyed by Watson's cattle and drove them home, requesting him to keep them. Watson brandished a club and told him—just what we don't know—and started Mr. Wolf home. Mr. Watson is evidently a bull-dozer.

—DEER CREEK ITEMS.

—A gentleman by the name of Arnold has opened up a grocery store at Carlyle.

—D. C. Adams has filled his ice house with a fine lot of ice for next summer's use.

—Dr. Whitaker complains of dull times in his line of business, therefore, the community is to be congratulated upon its good health.

—The Gilgion boys are securing their crop of ice for next summer. Perhaps David thinks if he should engage in new relations of life it is well to keep cool.

—What about the State Horticultural Society that met a few weeks ago at Emporia? If you hear of anything they did, give us the gist. I think it will be interesting news to quite a number of subscribers.

GODFREY'S LADY'S BOOK.

Godfrey's Lady's Book for February has been received. This beautiful magazine is a welcome visitor to our exchange table and is well worth the price asked for it. Among the magazines for ladies it takes its place in the front rank, and we can cordially commend the pure and healthy tone of its articles.

A YOUTH'S PAPER.

The Youth's Companion, of Boston, is a thoroughly wide-awake paper, having among its contributors such writers as J. T. Trowbridge, Edward Eggleston, Edward Everett Hale, Jas. L. Fields, J. G. Whittier, C. A. Stephens, Louisa May Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis, Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. A. H. Leonowens, Louise Chandler Moulton. No writers more attractive in the country, and no publication for young people more enterprising and useful.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The Atlantic Monthly for February has an excellent list of articles which opens with "The Witch of Wenham," by John Greenleaf Whittier and closing with Dr. Holmes' poem on the Presidential question, "How Not to Settle It." There is also a very interesting article, "A Dutch Picture." Among the prose articles is a very important one on "The Political Condition of South Carolina," and the first installment of Ma. Howell's story, "Out of the Question." Other articles of merit are also worthy of notice.

COMPLIMENTARY.

Let it be noted abroad throughout the land that Allen county has a board of commissioners who have formally denied the statement of a saucy, Ohio, land agency that cotton, oranges and lemons are raised in that county. The figures in the circular of the Agency are 100,000 pounds of cotton, 100,000 bushels of oranges and 100,000 bushels of lemons. Let the board be mobbed for turning the tide of emigration elsewhere. Not raise oranges and lemons? But in this Italian climate we can raise anything tropical, even the devil. —Junction City Union.

ST. NICHOLAS.

St. Nicholas for February contains several articles of peculiar interest. The most notable is Thomas Hughes' "Talk with Boys," his text being "Hasten Slowly," and a very stirring, sensible and timely article by H. C. Felt, on the subject of the "Boy's Own Paper." The story of Major Andre, the spy, is told in a most entertaining way. The little ones will have a story about a motherly old thing, besides a letter from the "Fairy," some of which is not so much of the "fairy" kind as the rest, but not the very best, of this incomparable magazine.

OBITUARY.

We are requested to publish the following obituary which was published in The Religious Telegraph, Dayton, Ohio, under date of Dec. 20, 1876: BETHER C. ARMSTRONG, wife of Robert A. Armstrong and daughter of John and Rebecca Funkhouser, died in great peace November 30th, 1876, aged 40 years, 6 months, and 8 days. She was born in Salem, Ohio, in 1836, and was united in marriage to her husband in 1854. She was a member of the Methodist church, and was a devoted wife and mother. She was afflicted with a long and painful illness, and died peacefully in the arms of her friends. Her funeral was held on Monday, December 4th, at 10 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends. She is buried in the cemetery at Dayton, Ohio.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

In the February number of Scribner's, Mr. Edward Seymour describes Trout-fishing in the Hudson Valley (Delaware). Gen. McCallahan's "Campaign on the Nile," will be continued; a new story, "The Farmer's Boy," by H. C. Felt, will be begun; and a charming story of the life of "William of Orange," the father of our country, by E. A. Mearns. One of the brightest things in this number will be a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article. The number also contains a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article. The number also contains a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article.

LIPPINCOTT.

Lippincott's Magazine for February is especially strong in fiction. Besides the continuation of George MacDonald's serial, "The Marquis of Lossie," which is equally powerful in incident and in the treatment of the subject, there are several other notable stories, including a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article. The number also contains a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article. The number also contains a story by H. C. Felt, "The Boy's Own Paper," which is a very interesting and timely article.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

We have been requested to publish the following synopsis of the Supreme Court, covering a similar case tried in this county last year: 1. Statute not considered to be repealed by implication unless the repugnancy between the provisions of the new and the former statute is plain and irreconcilable, and the latter statute authorizing acts of the third class to license the sale of intoxicating liquors does not repeal the provisions of the former statute. 2. Different statutes relating to the same subject matter are to be construed together. 3. Cities of the third class have the power to license persons to sell intoxicating liquors within their limits subject to the approval of the board of supervisors of the county. 4. The presentation of a petition to the city council by a person who is not a resident of the city is not a valid exercise of the power of the city as required by section 1 of the draft shop act of 1875, is an essential condition precedent to the validity of a license. 5. The city of Emporia, under the provisions of the draft shop act of 1875, is not a city of the third class; it is a city of the first class, and is not subject to the provisions of the draft shop act of 1875. All the justices concurring.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.

VERY USEFUL TO EVERY ONE.—In no other way can a person get such large profits for a very little money, as to expend in learning what to do, when to do it, and how to do it—in other words, to have his brains help his hands. Here is one way to do this: The small saving or extra profit made by a person who knows what to do, when to do it, and how to do it, is a very large profit. The American Agriculturist, a monthly magazine, is a very useful work for every one. It contains a great deal of information about agriculture, and is a very useful work for every one. It contains a great deal of information about agriculture, and is a very useful work for every one.
